Praxa
makes perfect ...sense

Our Approach

“We believe best training solutions are the one which makes perfect sense to clients in workplace rather than just being a learning resource.”

Skills Gap Analysis:

At Praxa we pride ourselves in providing best solutions to client by adopting a consultative approach. Our highly skilled trainers assess and analyse the current skills of your staff in order to provide the best solution, not just deliver a training course.

Up Skill:

We deliver our training program in a way which ensures your staff are up skilled to face the challenges in their job. It's not just about training but also about retaining the knowledge they have gained through our programs.

Skill Implementation:

We stay in regular contact with our clients to ensure skills gained in our programs are used in the workplace in a consistent and concise manner. Our trainers use real world examples during our programs to ensure smooth and consistent implementation of skills gained.

Post Program Support:

Our clients can contact trainers on a regular basis: This approach leads us to help your staff face the challenges in their job with the help of experts in the relevant field. This approach also ensures regular implementation of skills gained during the course in the workplace*.

Customisation:

When Praxa delivers Customised Training courses we customise the course content and other training materials to ensure our delivery meets the long term training goals of the organisation, not just the intermediate requirements. Our highly trained experts ensure training content is customised in an appropriate way to meet expectations of every individual organisation.
